Profession

Artist, Veldkamp is interested in political devices and apparatuses: the philosopher, mechanisms by which our world is shaped and reproduced. Through and lecturer artistic research he develops subversive political devices that intervene on the same world. With this he tries not only to make the absurdity of life itself visible, but also approachable: so that we can do something with it.

Biography

Eef Veldkamp (1993) is an engaged artist, philosopher, and lecturer at ArtEZ University of the Arts in the Netherlands. By intermingling artistic and philosophical research methods, he brings about textual interventions that simultaneously function as the point of departure for his artistic practice in which he develops what he conceptualises as 'counter-systems'. These are organisations specifically erected to engage with a specific bottleneck in society, which they do through a multiplicity of forms that Veldkamp terms 'art on batteries'—works of art that do. He currently investigates our mnemonic devices for dealing with societal crisis, for which he develops a new sort of souvenirs called Hyper Souvenirs inspired by current thought in Object-Oriented Ontology.

Veldkamp studied Fine Arts (BA, ArtEZ University of the Arts), Philosophy (PreMA, Radboud University) and Art and Politics (MA, Goldsmiths College, UoL), Art as Politics (BAK Utrecht) and Philosophy, Politics and Society (MA, Radboud University). Recently he concluded a research project resulting in a series of fourteen essays for the Professorship for Art education as Critical Tactics (AeCT) that will be published as Notes Towards Engaged Practices at ArtEZ Press in 2024.
